EXCLUSIVE!

Energy Saving Panel (ESP)

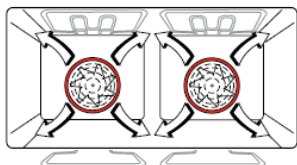

When the full-sized 4.9 cu. ft. oven is more than required for your everyday cooking needs - the internationally patented Energy Saving Panel (ESP) can be easily set in position to create a fully functioning 2.4 cu. ft. oven.

By using half of the space for cooking smaller dishes, heat is directed and distributed more effectively throughout the smaller cooking oven cavity. The other half, although not generating direct heat, is warmed by residual heat ideal for warming plates and food.

With energy consumption being a prime concern, the ESP is ideal - requiring less energy to run than the full oven, consequently reducing energy consumption by up to 30%.

 BROWNING ELEMENT

 CONVENTIONAL OVEN

And now this collection continues the tradition. Please specify left/right hinge when ordering.
